Cetaceans celebrate!

Near beaches, around boats, even moving upstream, thousands of dolphins the world over, are coming to celebrate the new energy around humans. A growing number of people are capturing their messages telepathically, which makes them even happier. In a nutshell, their message goes as follows: "We knew it was going to happen, but you really tested our patience! It was almost too late! But, at last you have awakened! The oceans sing with joy with this new birth! Just wait, we'll be doing amazing things together. Different dimensions and fabulous games are to be discovered! A universe of bliss awaits us!

Weather

Sun and rain will alternate in a harmonious dance, bringing ideal climatic conditions for life in all regions. In fact, the climate has become perfectly and divinely balanced since humanity has consciously chosen to live in harmony with All That Is.

PEACE IS REALLY HERE!

(United press 7/99) Since children have been put in charge of setting up of political guidelines, throughout the planet and at all levels, ideas and initiatives which until now would have been unthinkable, are bubbling up at all levels of human society.

"The most amazing change is that people are speaking truth, hypocrisy is gone" said Felice Joy, president of the ECE Social Affairs Commission. "Better still, all vengeance and retaliatory efforts seem to have dissipated as people become less interested in the past. They want to create a reality of harmony and love," he added.

"People fear not having enough if they share what they have. But it is the opposite which occurs" comments Shanti, 12 years old, head of UPO's Economic Council, formerly the UN. "When one no longer fears not having enough, the Universe becomes most generous!" she says with a wink.

Unemployment disappeared in a few months, because people stopped just checking in weekly, so they might participate in the numerous programs for depollution, technology transfer and energy reharmonization. "We have finally left history behind us", Tom, 7 years old, assures us. He is delegate for the transition of educational systems. "Now, we can have fun!"

Editorial

"Game over!" is the message which pops onto the screen when the sequence ends. I see this message everywhere I turn: in the difficulties encountered daily, superimposed on the TV news and on the newspapers headlines, in the "culture" and in the "sport", in the debacles of politicians and countries...

Two or three years ago, when I said that we are approaching the end of a world, at the conclusion of human history as it is known, the majority thought I was nuts, the nicer ones complimented me on my originality and imagination.

Today, the buses and trams, the coffee shops and parks are filled with discussions on the changes by people who are barely just becoming aware of the phenomenon and who haven't a clue about what is to occur in our fading history.

To make matters worse, summer is expected to be hot in many respects. The heavens will regale us with eclipses and with some of the most amazing planetary alignments in all of history.

So, in order to give you an advanced taste of the new reality which is already upon us, while waiting until the present nightmare ends, I went several months into our future in search of news to share with you in this summer issue.

And then, things moving so fast, I thought I'd try to help you figure in which world you're living (i.e. the sum total of the suffering you have tucked away in the name of experimentation). I put together the summer test: "Which world do you live in?" Alain-Yan Mohr

A wave of awakenings floods the planet

Reality is an interconnected, holographic network. The impact of countless individual and collective activities undertaken to heal our Earth are beginning to be felt everywhere. According to Tatiana Blinis, 13 years of age, extraordinary delegate for cosmic conscience for the OPU, the vibrating quality of physical reality is reaching new heights. This has been causing currents of joy and bliss to be felt by all living beings on the planet. These currents are being further amplified by determination and enthusiasm of individuals, she added, and the veils of illusion are falling one after the other. An increasing percentage of the population has been noting transcendent experiences, feeling of unity with all and total knowing. A significant part of humanity has already integrated the experience of multidimensionality. Interdimensional communication is a commonplace and communication among species is increasing daily. A number of problems surge forth as people are confronted with previously hidden fears, permitting them to finally come to terms with their own personal hells. But even here, synergies are at work, as these people find themselves being helped by those who have already gone through their own "transitions".

According to Tatiana, at the present rate at which the events follow one after the other, there is a very real possibility that a planetary awakening could occur before the end of the year.

The Earth is healed!

This is the conclusion reached by the numerous teams of specialists dispatched all around the world. Soils, oceans, atmosphere, each aspect of our planet is blatantly healthy. Their reports are unanimous: never ever has our planet been so pure, clean and healthy!

This is what transpires from the extraordinary press conference held yesterday evening in Geneva, at the European headquarters of the UPO. The heads of the different programs were present to share their joy as much as to inform the crowd of attending journalists.

"This is the victory of everybody, the victory of Life itself", stresses Rachid Yen, rapporteur for the environmental commission of the UPO.

"It all happened so quickly! The discovery in Turkey of a super-ionized water able to depolluate anything it comes in contact with represents the catalysing event of this transformation. In the following weeks, a tsunami of new solutions to restore the ecological balance of the planet surged in the planetary reality. Informations spread out with the speed of light, in part thanks to internet. The response was so huge that governments and medias found themselves with the back to the wall, totally overwhelmed and with no other choice than to relieve information and coordinate the undertaken projects and activities."

"Such a mobilization of the people was unthinkable only six months ago, said Rachid Yen. "I'm in awe in front of this explosion of creativity... Today, we have free energy, new alloys and materials totally bio-degradable are on the markets, the solutions for the transfer of past technology are operational. Additionnaly, the new technologies based on consciousness and intention were so simple to implement that today, nobody is dying of hunger anymore.

Some aren't that happy...

"Kept under house arrest, the main backers of the numerous attempts to prevent the planetary purification will finally be released", says Maria-Gloria del Corazon, member of the transition council of the UPO. The magnitude of the change of consciousness that happened makes it impossible to reverse gears; each individual has acquired enough autonomy and self respect to be unable to collaborate - even for a second - to projects which doesn't serve the totality of Life."

And Maria adds: "In any case, part of the human population will soon have to leave Earth, because the planetary vibration, rising constantly, is less and less compatible with dualistic modes of thinking. We are already preparing great parties to celebrate their departure, ceremonies that will be centered around the gratitude we have for the role they played in this last act of this play of the planetary saga."

Savings, savings!

Shanti Deva, delegate for the economical committee, was all smile when she took place on the scene. "I have only good news..." she said, before breaking out into laughter. "Planetary economics is in such a healthy state that I wonder what we will do with all these resources! I'm joking: I know we all have wonderful projects and even more important, that we do not fear to live in abundance anymore!

Let me relate the reasons of this optimism: on the planetary budget side, the more expensive questions have simply disappeared. It was probably the best way to handle the issues. In order of importance: the military budget, previously withdrawing up to 5% of the GNP of the nations: abolished! The social security expenses which, a few months ago, were the main headache of every administration, have dropped by 98% less than the previous figure, because people could not stand anymore to be supported by the state. On the other hand, the rate of disease in the population, in every country, has also dropped by 90%. The phenomenon can be explained by the fact that people found a reason to live and just cannot find enough time to get sick.

Education has also been wiped away, because we have realized that is was essentially brainwashing and because the connection with All That Is gives access to omniscience; however, part of this budget have been reattributed to initiatives aiming at fostering consciousness change in those who are still into a transition process. Another budget eliminated, previously causing exorbitant expenses: the fight against drug traffic, terrorism, corruption and serious crime. In a system where people prefer to dye than loose their integrity in cooperating with dishonest actions, there are no more dishonest actions..." Another burst of laughter of Shanti Deva.

"Finally, another aspect that allowed us to make tremendous savings is the total desintegration of religions, moralizing belief systems and their obvious counterparts, the markets of pornography and other safety valves.

In a general way, things can be summed up quite simply: what was costing the most to the individual and to the society was after all what was useless. You understand now why I'm in such a good mood..."

Then Erik Jensen, consultant for the Unity of All Life at the Transition Council went on: "Shanti talked about projects, here are some of them! First of all, the project of reunification of all consciousness on our planet is progressing faster than our best forecasts. Not only do we have set up an interspecies agora where mineral, vegetal, animal, human - and also angelic, seraphic and archangelic kingdoms are elaborating in partnership the outline of the project Earth, but on top of that, we will soon have the pleasure to welcome representatives of the neighboring solar systems, with whom we will be able to explore the development of our creative relationships, each of us having unique and complementary aptitudes.

Thanks to all, thanks to All That Is!"

Galaxy-wide celebrations!

The information circulated in many circles, yet little people dare to admit it : the events that are happening now on Earth have much more influence and consequences on the nature of reality of regions far larger than our planetary framework or that of our solar system.

Various messages received by SETI (Search for Extraterrestrial Intelligence), by channeling, fax and email, coming from places like Sirius, Pleiades, Lyra, Orion, Acturus and even Andromeda, state enthusiastic congratulations, pointing out that parties and celebrations of an unimaginable extent are taking place everywhere in the galaxy to honor the choice of planet Earth, stressing the fact that this event signals a major step in the evolution of our galaxy.

Interview Psyche: the best is yet to come!

On the occasion of the extraordinary press conference of the UPO, Nathalie Devin, head of the OPPI, Office for the Planetary Psychic Integrity, gave us the latest news on the purification of the psychic atmosphere of our planet.

Bear Tribune: Everybody seems to talk about your office these days. People talk about you in laudatory terms in a number of commissions. What can motivate such an interest?

Nathalie Devin: Very simply, because our projects assures that in the not far future, the totality of the beings composing our Mother Earth will reach a state of freedom never experienced before in the whole known universe. This perspective is so exciting!

You see, each being presently on Earth carries within itself, herself or himself billions of years of explorations and experiences in countless systems, a gigantic quantity of joy, but also of traumas and pain. By taking advantage of advanced researches accomplished during the last years, we have developed psychic multidimensional clearing technologies that are incredibly efficient. Since we work on an extra-temporal framework, we are able not only clear issues on every timelines, but on every parallel planes of reality as well.

BT: What does it mean and imply, concretely?

ND: It means that we are going to keep and reactualize all the knowledge accumulated since eons of time, but it will be purged of all traumatic content. It also means that a myriad of lost entities, of active but forgotten karmic contracts, of structural and psychic anomalies coming from incarnation choices that go back to the origins of this sequence of universal experience are presently sent back into the non-manifest. This process of clearing is accelerating exponentially, purifying everything on the way! We will soon know what unconditional Life and Love really mean!

I would like to add that this work is affecting all of Life, all the kingdoms, from the minerals to the archangels and to the Great Central Sun. Reality is holographic: you change one aspect and the whole transforms...

Now you better understand why our activities are observed with such an attention, not only on Earth, but everywhere else as well. In my opinion, these events follow on from each other with a divine perfection, heralding the emergence of the New Universe!

SOME (MAYBE) COMPLETELY REAL NEWS

The UN just published its annual report on the state of the world; it is not bright and joyous, yet a number is worth being noted : the 3 richest families of the planet earn more money than 600 million workers in the third world countries.

According to a very recent interview of Drunvalo Melchizedek, some weird things are happening on Earth.

The youth do not respect anything anymore, even not serious diseases. Since a few years, children born of AIDS parents, themselves having AIDS, have seriously challenged science's all knowingness. During regular tests to monitor the evolution of the disease, doctors have discovered that all trace of it had disappeared in these children.

Some advanced research in well known Universities and UCLA have been done, and the scientists have discovered that these children are not only totally immune to AIDS, but as well to all the other known diseases!

So they went in to see what was happening on the genetic level, and they found out that instead of 20 codons (the human DNA characteristic), these children had 24 active codons! In other terms, they are litterally mutants.

Today, after the most recent DNA tests done around the planet, one estimates that already 1% of the world population has this new DNA. Scientists are now forced to admit the emergence of a new humanity, a race that refuses to get sick...

The human endowed with this new DNA have a particular perception of reality: they don't conceive the world in a separate way, aren't keen to judgment or dualistic reflexes, and their energetic signature shows unconditional love, compassion and unity.

It seems that the system is working both ways: cultivating the forementioned qualities has the tendency to catalyze this DNA mutation in the individual...

And also, this very exciting water story, told by Drunvalo, among others.

It is coming from Turkey, where a water with extraordinary qualities have been «discovered». It seems it has an optimal effect on anything it comes in contact with. Put a spoon of it into a tank filled with the most polluted water you can imagine, wait a few hours and you get pure water; even the sediment deposits on the bottom of the tank are not polluted anymore, they have transformed into proteines and amino acids...

Perfect Science, the company behind this discovery, has created a huge plant to produce this living water as fast and largely as possible. Still according to what I read, this water can depolluate any surface of water, from the puddle to the ocean, but also the soils and radioactivity... and it must have interesting effects on the one who drinks it...

The effects of what is called «super-ionized» water have been tested since years, in particular in the bay of Izmit, before one of the most polluted of the world, a sort of oily bubbling pool. In a few days, the water was cristal clear and the fish were back.

In a speech delivered at the United nations conference on Water held in 1996 in Beijin, Andrew Nixon of Perfect Science has spoken of the philosophy underlying the discovery of this water. I quote : «... The challenge today is for this august body (The UN) to move from the paradigm of poison to the paradigm of purification. The paradigm of poison has been the pathway to this critical World Water Conference. Fresh water supplies, once bountiful are increasingly degraded by industrial poisons and human wastes. The paradigm of poison is premised on the persistence of these industrial and human wastes in the drinking water supplies.(...)

Within this new paradigm of purification there is no water crisis. There is merely the challenge of implementing the solution. Within this new paradigm of purification, there is no fear of degraded fresh water supplies. Utilizing the Perfect Science purification methodologies, persistent and toxic industrial and human wastes can now be easily destroyed, creating vast resources of readily available fresh drinking water across the globe.

(...) It is of utmost importance for all attending this conference to know that the Perfect Science Environmental Purification Technologies have the capacity to not only purify all global drinking water supplies, but at the same time, these purification methodologies can be applied for restoration of polluted surface waters, polluted global soils and polluted global atmospheres. Destruction of toxins in surface waters will restore aquatic food chains across the globe. Destruction of toxins in polluted soils will restore agriculture bounty across the globe. As will be fully revealed, in Istanbul, at Habitat 11, Perfect Science has truly developed a comprehensive global program for stabilization of collapsing ecosystems. Perfect Science is presently poised to assist all sovereign nations in developing the ways and means of removing industrial toxins from polluted drinking water supplies, surface waters, soils and atmospheres. This historic capability will transform the negative economic and social trends stemming from the present global toxicity crisis. The Perfect Science Environmental Purification Technologies now permit, for the first time in global industrial history, the development of such positive economic and social trends that the course of present human development will be changed forever. (...)

That's for the good news. My question is: why do we hear nothing about it in the mainstream media, and what does the police do? We have to put all our politicians into retirement as fast as we can! Seriously.

SERA

Everybody talks about it, weird predictions circulate, the scientific authorities practice small-talk, drugstores sell dark glasses and in all this turmoil, one thing is sure: August 11, there will be a splendid total solar eclipse.

But that's not all. Right after, we will have an absolutely unique planetary alignment, forming a grand zodiacal cross of the four gates of power (the middle of the four fixed signs, bull, lion, aquarius and scorpio). In esoteric astrology, Alice Bailey described this type of fixed cross as a transition of consciousness and a initiation of the soul by the flame of God. Imagine yourself simultaneously facing the bull, taming the lion, challenging the Snake and walking the narrow initiatic path of the soul.

Love! Aym
